STATE OF THE SCIENCE SYMPOSIA SERIES

Advances in Military and Veteran Health Research from Post-911 Conflicts For Wounded, Injured, and Ill Veterans

October 23, 2015
7:30AM - 4:00PM

An in-depth review of the evolution of health research as a result of Post-911 conflicts and the impact on medical care and rehabilitation for wounded, injured, and ill Veterans.

LOCATION:
UNIFORMED SERVICES UNIVERSITY OF THE HEALTH SCIENCES
4301 JONES BRIDGE ROAD, BETHESDA, MARYLAND 20814
Building B, Sanford Auditorium

COURSE DIRECTORS:
Rory A. Cooper, PhD
Distinguished Professor and FISA/PVA Chair, Department of Rehabilitation Science and Technology, School of Health and Rehabilitation Sciences at the University of Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh, PA.
Director, Human Engineering Research Laboratories, VA Pittsburgh Healthcare System, Pittsburgh, PA.

Colonel (Ret.) Paul F. Pasquina, MD, Medical Corps, United States Army
Residency Director and Chair, Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation; Director, Center for Rehabilitation Sciences Research (CRSR) at the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences (USUHS), Walter Reed National Military Medical Center, Bethesda, MD.

STATE OF THE SCIENCE SYMPOSIA SERIES

TO REGISTER:
www.herl.pitt.edu

FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC
Attendee priority to DoD/VA personnel

Box Lunch Included

State of the Science Symposia:
A series of quarterly, 1-day workshops benefitting Veterans, military service members and their families, care-givers, clinicians, students, medical residents, community-based organizations, government agency personnel, and healthcare providers.

CEUs: Continuing education credits provided by the UPMC Center for Continuing Education in the Health Sciences and the University of Pittsburgh School of Health and Rehabilitation Science at no cost to participants.

CONTACT:
Amy Donovan
adonovan@pitt.edu
(412) 383-6596